

Haiti Earthquake Relief

Shabach Ministries International (SMI) is headquartered in Carrefour, Haiti, which is near the capital of Port-au-Prince. Carrefour was one of the hardest hit areas during the January 12th earthquake. Since then, SMI has continued to meet regularly as a church body with 1,300 people in attendance at last Sunday’s church service in the street. In addition to spiritual support, SMI also provides humanitarian aid. To date, SMI has been able to purchase enough food to feed 1,500 people for a month and two water purifiers that can each filter 10,000 gallons of water per day.

The need, however, far exceeds what has been done. The refugee camp near SMI’s headquarters has 14,000 people. More food, water, medical aid, and shelters are urgently needed. Our Haitian brothers and sisters in Christ need help, and who better to offer it than the church?
